Couple To Reside In Calgary

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in the St. Paul's United Church recently when marriage vows were exchanged by Margaret Cousins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. Vagh of Moosemin, Sask., and Keith Ralph, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Krish of Coleman.

Rev. R. McAuley officiated and Mrs. R. Cousins was organist.

The bride, escorted down the aisle by her brother, Frank Vagh, Jr., who gave her in marriage, was radiant in a white embroidered waist-length gown of net over tulle. The matching bolero featured a Peter Pan collar and lily-point sleeves. Her finger-ring veil of illusion net misted from a coronet trimmed with sequins and pearls. Her cascade bouquet was red and white carnations centred with red roses.

The matron of honor, Mildred Linko of Calgary, chose an apple green net over tulle waist-length gown with off-shoulder neckline. She wore a matching headress. Her bouquet was white chrysanthemums and pink carnations. Bridesmaid Barbara Krish, sister of the groom, wore a blue net over satin waist-length gown with matching headress. Chrysanthemums and pink carnations. Her bouquet was white chrysanthemums and pink carnations.

Faye Rejman of Creston, as bridesmaid, chose a yellow waist-length gown over tulle with matching headress. Her bouquet was white chrysanthemums and pink carnations.

The two charming little flower girls, nieces of the groom, Laverne Rose of Coleman, and Beverly Luchansky of Lethbridge. They wore blue and pink nylon knee-length dresses with matching flower head-dresses. They carried colorful bouquets of colored carnations.

Jimmy Salmon of Banff, acted as best man, while Arthur Jublin and Francis Kuylen of Rockyford ushered the guests.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at which 150 guests signed the guest book in charge of Barbara Krish.

Receiving the guests with the bride party, the bride's mother chose a blue nylon afternoon frock with matching accessories. Her corsage was pink roses.

The groom's mother chose a royal blue nylon dress with matching accessories and a red rose corsage. The toast to the bride and the bridesmaid was made by Don White of Moosemin, Sask. The groom ably responded.

The bride's table was centred with a three-tiered beautifully decorated wedding cake which was made by the groom's mother. It was flanked by white tapers and flowers.

The couple left on a trip to Vancouver and Regina, Sask., and the bride chose for travelling a blue tweed suit with matching accessories topped with a brown mouton coat.

On their return they will reside in Calgary.

Guests present from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Krish, Lope, B. C., Mr. and Mrs. Fred Krish, Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Krish and Eddie Rejman of Fernie, B. C., Mr. D. Hyde and Miss V. Nontabetti of Banff, Mr. and Mrs. Luchansky, Lethbridge.

Guests were also present from Blairmore, Bellevue and Frank

Fernie Protest December 21 Game Is Vetoed

The protest placed by the Fernie hangers following an 11-5 Selkirk win in Fernie on Saturday, December 21st has been turned down by league president Les D'Armond following study of the rule book and referees' report.

The incident leading to the protest followed a two-minute penalty to a member of each club handed out by referee Dave Flint on high sticking charge.

When about to resume play again blood was noticed on the Cranbrook player's head and a further five-minute penalty, which is automatic was given the Fernie player.

Fernie claimed that this was not according to the book, but Mr. D'Armond ruled that according to the reports of the referees, there was no indication of where or when the blood was drawn, and therefore disallowed the protest.

Council Considering New Cemetery Sites

Coleman council members are giving serious thought to the present condition of the cemeteries as they expect them to be filled to capacity in the near future. Several locations were discussed, and the council decided that money would have to be spent this year to acquire more land for a cemetery. A definite plan will be drawn up by the council at a later date.

Road improvements and hazards were discussed by council members. Town Engineer Klinck informed the council that two new blacktop lights were ready to be installed on No. 3 highway.

It is hoped that this will create greater caution by motorists. The crosswalk sign over the underpass will be moved farther east as high winds are damaging the sign.

On the main road west through the bluff to West, Coleman a hazard has been created with the entry of the lane onto the main road at the bluff. Councillor Wavrean stated that on several occasions he had been in near collision with cars turning off to go up this lane. Drivers going east cannot see oncoming traffic until just before this lane enters. West bound traffic, turning into this lane gives the east bound traffic very little chance or stop. The council will erect signs allowing only one-way traffic on this lane, and if necessary a by-law will be drawn up to curb this practice.

Council was requested permission to paint the front of the fire hall by the fire department. This permission was granted. The firemen have painted the interior already.

Capacity Crowd Attend Elks Bingo

A capacity crowd filled the Elks hall on Friday evening when the regular Bingo night was held.

One of the largest jackpots of the season was offered, $120.00 in 59 numbers, but no one was able to win it.

Consolation winners for the jackpot were M. Cerny of Bellevue, and F. Anderson of Blairmore.

The six number $60 jackpot was not won. This will make this prize $63 at the next bingo to be won in six numbers.

PRESIDENT OF JEFFERSON LAKE SULPHUR STATES PLANS ARE UNDERWAY FOR SULPHUR PLANT AT COLEMAN

The possibility of the erection of a sulphur plant here in Coleman, looms bright, as announcements this week by major producers of gas and sulphur products.

Eugene H. Walet, Jr., president of Jefferson Lake Sulphur, announced that the company has entered a preliminary agreement with Gindner and Company Ltd. of Toronto, pertaining to further financing of the company's Canadian projects.

It is planned that a Canadian corporation will be formed. Further details of the financing are expected to be announced upon the completion of comprehensive engineering studies.

Jefferson Lake's Peace River plant, in northern British Columbia, is now in operation. This plant produces sulphur from the concentrated hydrogen sulphide furnished from the Westcoast Transmission gas processing plant.

Jefferson Lake has proven extensive gas reserves in the Calgary field where a plant will be erected.

It is also planned to erect a plant at Coleman, Alberta, to produce sulphur from the hydrogen sulphide gas to be furnished from the nearby Savanna Creek field, Walet said.

ing studies for Westcoast Transmission Company Limited's planned natural gas pipeline from south-east Alberta to Pacific Coast markets have been completed, the company's annual report said.

"Gas purchases and sales contracts have been negotiated, the report said, and hearings regarding the projected pipeline now are under way before the Alberta Conservation Board.

The pipeline would go through the Crow's Nest Pass of the Canadian Rockies. It would comprise 300 miles of 30-inch pipe, starting at Coleman, Alberta, and cutting across the south-east corner of B. C. to the Idaho border at Kingslake, B. C.

At Coleman, Westcoast facilities are planned to connect with the Alberta Trunk Line grid system through which Alberta Trunk will deliver gas purchased by Westcoast from the east Calgary field.

Initial flow capacity of this second Westcoast line would be 170 million cubic feet a day. Additional compressor stations would permit an increase to 600 million cubic feet daily.

Shirt Sleeve Lawn Bowling In January

Calgary can have their pussy willows, Lethbridge their fresh vegetables, but Coleman has their lawn bowling in January!

Saturday, January 10th saw a balmy day in which lawn bowling was enjoyed by ardent enthusiasts of the game.

The Coleman Legion greens were not exactly green, but their conditions were practically ideal for bowling.

Taking advantage of this fine opportunity were "Pep" Oliva and "Randy" Kulig, as challengers against "Irish" Mullen and "Fish" Hadley, friends of the tricky art.

It must be said that the game was not as close as general games are but the boys claim they were on of condition. Many ardent supporters of the game were on hand to cheer their favorites on to victory, but as the game progressed under the refreshment of Dave Pow it was plain to see who the winners would be.

Winning the game easily were Pep Oliva and Randy Kulig, in two straight frames with scores of 10-8 and 12-5.

The winning team stated that they could have won the game by a much higher score, but did not want to discourage the other fellows.

Recording the event on film was Randy Kulig and his movie camera. Your reporter took a number of stills and will publish the best one in next week's issue of The Journal.

A general review of the game of "Pep" Oliva to challenge "Irish" Mullen to "Backslope" Mullen to a sudden death game.

This event was most enjoyable from the spectators' view. Many times during the game "Backslope" was accused of using unfair tactics in piling up his top-sided score. Although "Irish" Mullen won the game handily, he faces a challenge from Pep "Oliva" this coming Saturday, weather permitting, and this promises to be a real contest.

Frankly, fellows, you don't know what you missed, especially you old pros. This is one game coming up on Saturday that you must witness.

Oh, yes, "Backslope" won the same 11-4.

Renewal of Hospital Contracts Announced

V. J. Horvath, secretary manager of the Crow's Nest Pass Municipal Hospital, has released the following information this week regarding the sale of hospital contracts for resident non-ratepayers.

He stated that renewals of contracts will be held during the month of January. The life of the contract will expire on March 31, 1958.

New contracts will be sold during the month of January and because there is a waiting period of 80 days they will be effective only for the remainder of the month of March.

This change in the sale of contracts and the prices is due to a new provincial health plan that will be made effective on April 1, 1958, and which will do away with the sale of contracts completely.

Mr. J. M. Rushton's Sister Called by Death

Mr. J. M. Rushton was called to Naniamo on Jan. 8th, at the passing of his sister, Sarah Ellen Merriman, at the age of 87.

Mrs. Merriman was an old time resident of Coleman and Michel.

She leaves to mourn her loss her husband Tom Merriman who is also 87 years old, one brother, John of Coleman, three daughters, Helen and Alice of Seattle and one at Cranbrook.

The C. W. L. will hold a Bake Sale on Fri., Jan. 24, in the Coleman Hardware Store.

Local Girl Weds January 11

The Holy Ghost Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Saturday, January 11th at 11 a.m. when Rev. Father D. Fleming officiated at a double ring marriage ceremony that united June Frances, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kilgannon of Coleman, and John Francis, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Sandagat of Wardlaw.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride chose a princess-style white-tinged gown of white nylon, with lace inserts. It featured a sweetheart neckline and close fitting lily-point sleeves.

Her finger-tip veil of silk illusion net cascaded from a sequin-trimmed lace Juliet cap.

Her cascade bouquet was white carnations centred with red roses. She carried a white Miasal, a gift of the groom. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls.

Patricia Kilgannon, sister of the bride, acted as maid of honor. She wore a gallant-length gown of nylon net over tulle. Her head-dress was white ostrich tips. Her bouquet was white carnations.

Sharon Kilgannon, sister of the bride, chose a bridesmaid's dress of pale yellow nylon net over tulle of white-tinged. Her head-dress was also white ostrich tips. Her bouquet was yellow carnations.

The flower girl was Frances Kilgannon, youngest sister of the bride.

She was crowned in a pink nylon over tulle colonial length frock. In her hair she wore a garland of pink roses. Her nosegay was of pink and white carnations.

Miss Helen Morris presided at the organ, playing during the service and the signing of the register.

Mr. J. Badyk, uncle of the groom, was best man, and Constable W. Higger ushered the guests.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Elks hall at 2 p.m. Receiving the guests with the bride party, the bride's mother wore a two-piece turquoise blue long-sleeved ensemble with black accessories. Her corsage was pink carnations.

HOW MUCH DO YOU KNOW ABOUT NATURAL GAS?

What is Natural Gas?

Natural gas as used in homes is mostly a light hydrocarbon called methane. But natural gas as it comes from the well usually contains varying amount of other substances such as propane, butane, natural gasoline and sometimes hydrogen sulphide. Hydrogen sulphide yields sulphur. These by-products which are removed from the gas before it is transported to consumers from the raw materials for other industries.

Is There Enough Natural Gas For Canadian Consumers?

Yes, more than enough. Here is the position according to the Alberta Oil and Gas Conservation Board estimates, 30th September, 1956—

(shown in trillion cubic feet)

Present Alberta Recoverable Reserves (*) 18.3

Less: Alberta's requirements for 30 years 7.6

To supply presently approved export markets in Canada and U.S.A. 5.75

Present surplus Alberta reserves (*) 4.95

* In addition there are approximately 5 trillion cubic feet of surplus reserves in other parts of Western Canada. Thus, at this time surplus reserves in Western Canada total nearly 10 trillion cubic feet.

(*) Note: this does not take into account reserves discovered since September, 1956.

How Much is a Trillion Cubic Feet?

One trillion cubic feet is estimated to be the amount of gas required to supply the overall requirements of the greater Calgary area (a population 200,000) for a period of 40 years, at the present rate of consumption.

What About Additional Reserves?

Reserves are growing by 10 per cent to 15 per cent every year. The Alberta Conservation Board predicts that ultimate reserves of 42 trillion cubic feet are likely by 1986. However, the Board stated that this estimate is conservative and reserves could easily reach 75 trillion cubic feet by 1986.

What Will The Oil and Gas Industry Do About Developing All These Reserves?

The industry will look for and develop more natural gas reserves as it can sell that gas.

What About Prices? What Factors Make Up The Price Of Natural Gas?

Supply and demand, return on money invested and operating costs are main factors. Supply and demand is simply the law of the market place. Then, a company spending millions of dollars to develop large gas reserves hopes to be able to recover that investment. Operating and maintenance costs are things every purchaser must consider on an automobile or home. These are the same things that set the price of most things people buy.

But there is one new item — load factor. A gas distribution system must be able to carry enough gas to heat every home connected to it on the coldest possible day (peak load). This cost is spread over all the gas it sells. Therefore, the larger the volume of gas handled, the lower the cost per cubic foot.

Is There Any Control On The Price of Gas?

Of Many Things EGGS AGAIN

(By Ambrose Hills)

When this column criticized the proposed compulsory egg marketing board recently, Alberta weekly newspaper editors began to receive letters from champions of the scheme, hinting that I am either one of Mr. Manning's minions, or that I am hand-in-glove with theackers in wanting to skim profits from the labor of producers. I cannot say how editors will respond to such letters, but for my part I feel that it serves to show how weak the arguments of these people must be. If their scheme has real merit, why don't they argue its merits instead of making personal attacks on those who disagree?

The Alberta Egg Piebicket is news. It is legitimate material for any columnist, particularly at a time when in Ontario farmers are

To The Consumer!

In Alberta when a utility company is granted a franchise to serve an area its rates are set by the Board of Public Utility Commissioners. Price changes require approval of the Board after hearings at which all interested parties may be represented.

If Export Is Not

Authorized Will Alberta Gas Prices Remain the Same?

No. Whether export takes place or not Alberta gas bills will go up and it is possible the increase will be higher without export. This is largely because the reserves used by Alberta communities today were found and developed years ago, when costs were much lower. Turner Valley reserves developed in the 1920's are an example. New reserves will have to be found for these communities in years ahead and these new reserves will cost more. All costs are up, from exploration through development and distribution and, therefore, the price to the consumer will also be higher. On the other hand, under export, using new pipe line systems, operating at high load factors — Alberta consumers also will gain an advantage through lower transmission costs.

Those consumers close to large gas reserves will always be in a preferred position.

What Does It Cost To Heat An Average House With Natural Gas For a Year?

Edmonton, $68; Calgary, 174; Regina, $145; Winnipeg, $202; New York, $255; Toronto, $265. How Can Western Canada's Natural Gas Be Utilized For The Greatest Benefit To Canada?

Since Canada's requirements are now assured, excess natural gas should be exported. All of the natural gas can't be used in the West — even in all of Canada. Part of the gas must be sold to export markets or these resources will remain dormant rather than pay a major role in the Canadian economy.

As with coal or crude oil, it is just sound business practice to export what we cannot use ourselves. Canada has a serious trade deficit and needs more exports to balance its imports.

Is a 'Wall and See' Policy Now on Gas Export?

No. Markets that are now available may be lost through delay. Don't forget that Albertans are sitting on a 4,000 year supply of coal and atomic power is in the offing.

How Will Export of Natural Gas Make New Jobs?

With export of Canadian surplus, it is estimated that by 1962 at least $500 million will be spent on developing gas reserves and building plants and pipe lines.

Work will be created for thousands of Canadians.

Can Export Bring Natural Gas To More Small Towns?

Yes. It is because of these far-reaching transmission lines that favorably located small towns and communities may be served economically. Towns located too far from present gas supplies for economical service may find themselves close to a main trunk line. By connecting the town to such a system, gas service could become economical.

putting up a vigorous fight to get rid of a compulsory hog marketing board which was foisted on them three or four years ago with just such flimsy arguments as certain farm organizers are using to support compulsion in marketing eggs.

I read that Mr. Harper, secretary of the Co-operative Union of Alberta, has (according to press reports) stated "that the Egg Marketing Board would have no power to limit or control the production limit of eggs. All surplus profits would be used to the benefit of the producers and all surplus eggs would create a new outlet on the world market."

Does Mr. Harper honestly believe this? When have surpluses ever helped to do anything else but depress prices? And when have such compulsory Boards ever used "surplus profits" for any other purpose than to issue propaganda taking credit for price increases or dodging responsibility for price drops? If compulsory marketing boards are such a whopping success, why not give a realistic picture of their successes?

Theodore Parker, of Stratford, Ontario, wrote to the editor of the Edmonton Journal to say "I with thousands of farmers in the province of Ontario have been fighting to do away with a compulsory hog marketing scheme that was imposed on the producers more than four years ago. At the present time we are getting petitions signed to do away with this vile legislation. Our minister of agriculture released a statement to the press last week which says that 'a constant stream of critical correspondence is being received by his department'. I would like to warn the egg producers of the province of Alberta to think very carefully before voting such legislation into effect. Compulsory legislation is restraint of trade and is cold-blooded state control; you have ONE market, and only one."

Some farm leaders who take the attitude that fellow-farmers can only be led into the light by compulsion are due for a lesson one of these days. Not from packers or government — but from the rank-and-file farmers who are fed up with hearing them rant about monopolies, cartels and combinations on the one hand while trying to create those very things to be operated by themselves.

Diesel Take Over; Steam Era Ends

The shrill whistle of the steam locomotive will sound no more. Officials of the Canadian Pacific Railway announced here on Friday that the Lethbridge division of the CPR will be fully dieselized by Monday last.

Only one steam engine, No. 1026 working in the Lethbridge yards about four or five days a week, will be left in the division.

The completion of dieselization will be marked by the placing of diesel power on the branch lines to Cardston, Cochrane, Whiskey Gap, Yarm and Nisku in southwestern Saskatchewan.

Started Six Years Ago

Dieselization on the Lethbridge division started about six years ago with diesel power units being placed in operation on the Medicine Hat - Crow's Nest line, and then on the Calgary lines.

The switch to complete dieselization was done in stages—steam engines were replaced as new diesel units were shipped in from the factory.

At the present time there are about 16 steam engines, and 14 diesel units operating out of the Lethbridge division. After Monday there will be about 18 diesels and one steam engine.

Around 1950, when steam was the only source of power on the Lethbridge division, about 50 steam engines were assigned to the Lethbridge region.

The one steam engine that will remain after Monday will be used mainly as a spare and will not operate even in the yards when diesel power is available.

Canadians Owe $850 Million to Finance Companies

In Canada today 90 per cent of the total population do not pay cash for the goods they buy, according to Hugh Garner, in the current issue of Liberty magazine. "We owe the grand sum of $850 million to finance and loan companies. Another $990 million worth of our goods lies in stock."

"Next to the battle between the sexes, the biggest war in Canada today is between debtors and creditors," says Mr. Garner. "The creditors usually come out on top but there are exceptions. In 1951, one finance company in Montreal wrote off outstanding debts of $10,000."

Repossession — taking back goods not paid for — often run as high as five per cent of total sales. In the car business, 90 per cent of sales come from men who buy cars and then skip with them, reports Mr. Garner.

One Nova Scotia man won a $5,000 lawsuit against a finance company in Halifax. The bailiffs, mistaking him for a skip, removed his car from a parking lot, while he was staying at a hotel in Halifax. This mistake cost him well above the price of a new car.

One Montreal bailiff once spent an uncomfortable two hours when he went to repossess a TV set. While he was on the roof removing the antenna, the lady of the house casually lifted the ladder away. Then she piled the TV set in her car and drove off — leaving the startled bailiff stranded on the roof until the fire department finally came to his rescue.

This booming credit business is regulated by 95 Associated Credit Bureaus of Canada, headed by Arthur Bullied. These sleuths know more than your financial status; they know, from your neighbors, how much you drink, whether you are unfaithful to your wife, and even how often you heat her at night.

Inquest Verdict Accidental Death

(Courtesy Pass Herald)

The jury summoned to inquire into the death of Michael Michalsky at Libby, Mont., returned a verdict of accidental death with no blame attached to anyone.

Mr. Michalsky lost his life in a traffic accident one mile east of the Montana Idaho state line on Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 18th, 1957.

Inviting alone he was involved in a collision with a car owned by the Pinson of Bonners Ferry, Mrs. Pinson and daughter and a Mrs. L. A. Johnson and her two children were occupants of the car at the time.

The report from the inquest is that Mr. Pinson was travelling west and Mr. Michalsky was going east towards Troy, a large truck approaching the Michalsky car is stated to have splashed slush from the snow- and ice-covered road onto the Creston car's windshield. It went out of control before the drivers could clean the glass and the car went sliding broadside on the wrong side of the highway, with the resulting collision with the Pinson car.

Injured parties in the Pinson car were Mrs. J. Pinson, broken shoulder; Gala Pinson, broken arm and collarbone; David and John Johnson, minor injuries.

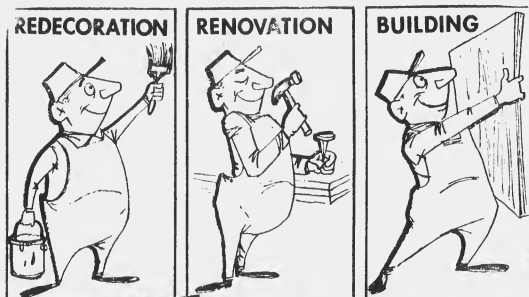

Mr. Michalsky died instantly from neck injuries as a result of the impact of the collision.

Conditions Said Bad In Homes For Canadian Aged

When informed that cockroaches were rife at the County Home for the Aged in Kitchener, Ont., recently, Reeve James Johannes, of Waterloo County, conducted an investigation. He asked Mrs. Philip Lovick, the home's superintendent, "How big are cockroaches here?" She replied "We have some that tip their hats to you."

Shocking conditions like this, of neglect and brutality, are frequent in many of Canada's 2,000 public and private rest homes for the aged, Frank Rasky reveals today, in Liberty magazine.

Canada now has 1,750,000 citizens over the age of 60, and only 75 per cent are self-supporting, reports Rasky. At least 100,000 over 60 are healthy Canadians who want to work, but are brushed off by employers. Dr. W. G. Scott, employment officer for Canada's National Employment Service, reveals that some employers now regard job-hunters as too old at 28.

Generally, the age barrier for women begins at 40," Scott said, "and for men 45."

Some old folk homes are a "chamber of horrors" says Rasky. Jean Ilowarth, reporter from The Vancouver Province, say one hospital operator "shake a 90-year-old couple woman," until her arms, legs and head were flapping like a rag doll's—then pushed her down the stairs.

Mayor J. E. Hucksins of Goderich, Ont., was horrified to find old folks and mental patients mingling freely in small, poorly-ventilated rooms at the Huron County Home for the Aged at Clinton, Ont. "Never again will I admit a citizen of Goderich there," he said.

In Milton, Ont., at the Halton County Home for the Aged, 91-year-old Elgin Richter died, after being punched in the jaw by an orderly "because he wouldn't take a sedative."

Willow Valley Trophy Club Awards Attract 300 to Lundbreck

Three hundred persons filled the Community hall in this tiny south-western Alberta foothill village to overflowing Saturday afternoon.

The big occasion was the awarding of the 1957 big game and fish trophies of the Willow Valley Trophy Club, official scorer in Alberta for the Boone and Crockett world record books in New York City.

A Rocky Mountain big horn ram's head, which scored 194 7/8 inches and was hanged by a 17-year-old sharpshooter from Pincher Creek, Bryan Watts, and a set of Elk antlers shown by Steve Kubasek of Tod Creek, which scored 332 3/8 inches were the centres of attraction among the more than 100 trophies entered.

Young Watts was the envy of all the hunters with his big ram's head.

The horns of the animal were massive and had about a curl and half.

Bryan Watts stalked and bagged the animal with a friend Charles Price, also 17, from Pincher Creek. The two were eight miles from camp when young Watts shot it on the rim of Stony Mountain.

The two walked a total of 32 miles before they got the entire carcass of the big ram out.

Despite the high score which the head placed, young Watts was unable to lift the grand championship from J. F. Kubasek of Tod Creek, whose 136 1/4 inch score has been the best for several years.

Although there were many good Elk antlers on display Steve Kubasek's 332 3/8 inch trophy will probably go down in the Boone and Crockett records as ranking about fifth in line for the world record. Mr. Kubasek's score set a new Elk record for the Willow Valley club. The previous record was held by A. C. Blair of Milk River with a score of 319 7/8 inches.

The following is a list of the 1957 winners:

Deer—1st, Cliff Bolton, Pincher Creek, 176; 2nd, Michael Dawson, Mountain View, 165 2/8, and 3rd, George Dingerville, Cowley, 164 1/2. Elk—1st, Steve, Kubasek, Tod Creek, 332 3/8; James Evans, Tod Creek, 306 5/8; and 3rd, Charles Barclay, Pincher Creek, 359.

Sheep—1st, Bryan Watts, Pincher Creek, 194 7/8; 2nd, J. F. Kubasek, Tod Creek, 160 1/8; and 3rd

Beaver Dams In 'Pass Streams Will Be Destroyed; Animals Moved

Beaver damming up small creeks on other tributaries of rivers in the Blairmore district was a problem brought up at the town council meeting in Blairmore Friday evening and with co-operation from Grant Cammell, game warden, the animals will be removed.

The beaver have been damming up creeks in the east end of town and these animals will be removed and the dams built by the beaver will be wiped out.

A number of animals have built dams in the vicinity of the Blairmore town reservoir southwest of Nick Sekella, Tod Creek, 149 1/2. Moose—1st, Marina Field, Spirit River, 155 5/8; 2nd, W. C. Troidl, Warner, 148 1/2; and 3rd, A. C. Giddard, Fort Macleod, score small.

Goat—1st, Terry Webber, Tod Creek, 42 1/2; 2nd and 3rd were tied, Steve Kubasek and Nick Sekella, each scored 42.

The following is the new grand championship standing of the club: Deer—John Kropinak, Pincher Creek, 189; elk—Steve Kubasek, Tod Creek, 332 3/8; sheep—J. F. Kubasek, Tod Creek, 196 2/8; goat—J. F. Kubasek, Tod Creek, 47 6/8; and moose—Ralph Michalsky, of Burnis, 186.

Steve Kubasek's big elk antlers also won the charter member's trophy which was awarded for the first time this year.

Fish trophies were awarded to: Lake-Hainbow Trout—1st, Frank Webber, Cowley.

Rainbow—1st, Mary Vyshold, of Bellevue; 2nd, James Svoboda of Bellevue, and 3rd, Rudy Yeliga of Coleman.

Dolly Varlin—1st, Frank Hauda, Bellevue; 2nd, Joe Vyshold, Bellevue; and 3rd, Frank Hauda.

Rocky Mountain whitefish—1st, Mike Husarek, Blairmore; 2nd, Mary Vyshold, Bellevue, and 3rd, Martin Hurly, Bellevue.

Featured speaker for the occasion was J. Eric Carr of Lethbridge president of the Alberta Fish and Game Association.

Mr. Carr outlined the activities of the provincial body during the past year. He urged all sportsmen to take a keener interest in their individual group, as well as the provincial organization, as it was the only "real voice that sportsmen have in Alberta."

R. "Dick" Osterberg, president of the Lethbridge Fish & Game Association, addressing the gathering briefly, urged the sportsmen to keep pressing for what they felt was right. Mr. Osterberg had high praise for Lawrence Scheffelmair of Pincher Creek, fish and game officer for the district.

Mrs. Carr, wife of the provincial president, also spoke briefly. She urged the men to take their wives out in the field more often.

"It would surprise many of the men," she said, "what a wonderful outdoors companion and mate they have been leaving at home all these years."

Beaver Dams In 'Pass Streams Will Be Destroyed; Animals Moved

down in the York Creek area and the structures are holding back the natural flow of water to the town reservoir.

These animals, too, will be removed in the spring or if the town desires the job will be done by the game officers immediately.

During the winter months the supply of water in the dam becomes low at times and if the beaver are removed, council feels the natural flow would insure the town a good supply of water the year round.

Christmas Seal Donations Still Being Received

Donations to the annual Christmas Seal sale are still running slightly behind last year, according to Jack Gorrie, chairman of the Kinmen Club of Lethbridge TB Christmas Seal Sale committee. Returns to date are $16,892.

"We feel sure that there are still many people who intend to support the Christmas Seal sale campaign and we are keeping the books open for a while longer in the hope they will do so," he said.

Contributions are income tax deductible, and may be sent to the Kinmen Club of Lethbridge TB Christmas Seal Sale committee, box 52, Lethbridge, Alberta.

Officials of the Alberta Tuberculosis Association report that over 100,000 people in the province received free chest X-rays through their mobile units during 1957. Final particulars on diagnosis of the films are not yet available, but preliminary figures indicate there will be an increase in the number of cases of active tuberculosis brought to light requiring immediate hospitalization. Many more people carrying TB infection, although believed to be inactive at present, have been found and they will require periodical examination. In addition to these over 2,380 people were found to have chest abnormalities of various kinds which should receive medical attention.

DEPARTMENT OF INDUSTRIES AND LABOUR

THE DEPARTMENT OF INDUSTRIES AND LABOUR plays an important role in the economy of Alberta. It makes a significant contribution in maintaining an industrial climate favorable to Alberta's progress.

THE BOARD OF INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS

administers the ALBERTA LABOUR ACT which applies to all employees and employers except farm labourers and domestic servants. It is made up of six parts:

HOURS OF WORK—The General hours of work shall not exceed more than eight hours a day or 48 hours a week. In Calgary, Edmonton, Lethbridge and Medicine Hat however, there is provided an eight hour day and 44 hour week limit. In all areas this limit may be exceeded by one hour but if the weekly limit of 44 hours is exceeded, overtime rates must be paid.

MINIMUM WAGES—The Board fixes a minimum wage and no employee may work for less without the approval of the Board.

LABOUR WELFARE—An employer in any industry is required to give his employees one week's vacation with pay after one year's service and two weeks with pay after two years' service. In the construction industry an employee is entitled to 4% of his regular earnings in the form of vacation with pay stem credits.

INDUSTRIAL STANDARDS—Any industry may, with the approval of the Minister, establish its maximum work hours, minimum wages and vacations with pay providing these are at least as favorable as required by the Act.

CONCILIATION AND ARBITRATION—The Act recognizes the privileges and right of employees to organize themselves for the purpose of collective bargaining. The Board has been very successful in encouraging industrial peace in its administration of this portion of the Act.

EQUAL PAY—Equal pay for women performing substantially identical work as men is provided for in the Act.

THE CO-OPERATIVE ACTIVITIES AND CREDIT UNION BRANCH

One of the functions of this branch is to assist interested groups in establishing and organizing credit unions. The credit unions provide members with a convenient method of saving and a source of credit. All credit unions are closely supervised and their books examined by the Branch to insure sound business standards.

RURAL ELECTRIFICATION—Also administered are several co-operative acts which encourage groups of farmers to install their own power facilities. The Alberta farmer can electricity in his farm for as little as $100.00 down with the remainder payable over a period of years.

Other services of the Department of Industries and Labour are provided by the following branches:

- Apprenticeship Board
- Factories Branch
- Welding Branch
- Provincial Marketing Board
- Gas Protection Branch
- Electrical Protection Branch
- Alberta Power Commission
- Employment Liaison Office
- Bureau of Statistics

Bid By Rossland To Enter A.-B.C.-M. League Turned Down

For the second week in a row a bid has been turned down for entry into the A.-B.C.-M. League. Last week the application of the Creston Del-Macs was vetoed and this week unanimous approval could not be obtained from present league clubs with the result a bid by the Rossland Warriors was rejected. It was felt that admission of Rossland, following refusal to Creston would not be in the best interests of the league though it was readily agreed that the Warriors would be a good drawing card and a benefit to the league.

The Rossland proposal called for them making six trips to this district - twice each to Coleman, Fernie and Cranbrook - with two games each trip. Great Falls would not be played until playoff time and if a trip there was necessary at that time the Rossland club were prepared to make it.

There were to be no return games to Rossland, that club getting a guarantee for each trip over here from the city visited.

The Warriors will play an exhibition series in Fernie this week-end against the Rangers and Coleman is also hoping to have them visit there if and when ice is available on their home arena.

As yet the Grands have not had a home game due to the prevailing mild weather in that area.
